

CAYEN Community Schools

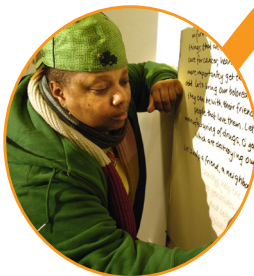

Software that helps bring the whole community together

Community Schools have unique management challenges due to the diverse participants, programs, and community partners that make a school a true community resource. As a result of the complexity and diversity of Community Schools, it is even more important for program administrators to have a quality data management tool. This tool must be capable of tracking participant and program information in order to demonstrate the achievements of the community partnerships and to validate the strengths of the program to new attendees, partners, and funding sources.

Cayen Community School is the most flexible and easy to use online program management software for Community School programs on the market today. Since 1998, the implementation, training, and support of hundreds of out-of-school programs nationwide, has given Cayen Systems a level of experience unsurpassed in the industry. Cayen Community School is uniquely designed to accommodate Community School programs regardless of size or scope, streamlining administration, reporting, funding source management, and data collection.
